2010-2011 REVISION

REDBOOK

TAA
TEXAS APARTMENT ASSOCIATION

2010-2011
REDBOOK

The indispensable legal handbook for rental property owners and managers in Texas

The 2010-2011 TAA REDBOOK features critical legal information you need to operate your business effectively, efficiently and legally. With streamlined content and a focus on operational information and changes in laws and regulations, here's some of what you'll find inside:

- More than 800 pages of legal information, with nearly 100 detailed articles written by TAA's general counsel, incorporating information from local association attorneys and subject matter experts
- A new section order, ensuring that related sections are adjacent and considering information that is most used in the REDBOOK
- Nearly 130 sample forms for use by owners and managers, with 62 new or revised forms and 16 revised TAA lease forms
- 20 new sections and 50 amended or added sections of statutes or rules
- A helpful "Essential Charts and Resources" section that includes step-by-step charts to walk you through common processes like eviction, lockout, landlord's lien, towing and more
- Reorganization of key articles and forms to make them easier to find
- Color-coded tabs to help you quickly locate information

While it's rare that the REDBOOK ever gets smaller, you've asked us to manage the size of this invaluable resource, and we've listened by relocating information, including most of the Federal Laws section, to the REDBOOK Online.

Save time, get answers 24/7 from the legal resource you trust and get additional bonus content that's not in the printed book.
